COUNTRY: China
SUBJECT: Double Ten Celebrations

1. TSITSIHAR

In Tsitsihar [   ] there was a combined parade of students, business-   STAT men, civilians, and soldiers. There were many "Chinesegates", edifices which had many large characters inscribed on them. Most of this was propaganda which urged that American troops should leave China; that Chiang Kai-shek is a traitor. Other propaganda items reminded the people that there must not be a recurrence of the "Mukden Incident". Students carried pictures of Chu Teh and Mao Tze Tung. [   ] Participants in the parade and onlookers   STAT totaled approximately 10,000. [   ]

2. CHALANTUN

PO MIAO MEN TU /? Po Yen Man To _/ led the Double Ten parade in Chaluntun.
Many government officials under him participated. There was no political propaganda implication in this celebration as there was in the Tsitsihar parade. The many banners and posters stressed the meaning and reason for celebrating Double Ten more than anything else. [   ]   STAT
